

NATIONAL PUBLIC SECTOR FRAMEWORK

For Multifunctional Devices and Associated Print Services and Supplies

REF: CPC/DU/MFD/02A

SHARP

t: 0208 734 2027
e: david.harrison@sharp.eu
e: mike.ferrall@sharp.eu
w: www.sharp.co.uk

Sharp has extensive experience of providing document solutions to varying public sector organisations. You can rely on us to provide you with the high quality, affordable products you demand.

We understand that cost reduction and product reliability are critical factors for your organisation to run efficiently day to day.

Sharp can help you by providing innovative, reliable and high quality multifunctional and reprographic devices that can help in providing an excellent working environment for your staff.

Cut printing costs

Print is an essential communication tool in any organisation. Sharp can help you optimise your print environment and gain total control of your print fleet, with benefits such as automated reporting on print volumes, costs, users and device performance. Many organisations which we work with are now enjoying the benefits of significant cost savings .

One of our customers recently installed a Sharp MX-6500N in their print room, they are now able to meet all demand in-house, improving their service turnaround and saving them money.

High Security Standards

Sharp's advanced, multi-layered security solutions safeguard confidential information and restrict MFP access and usage allowing every authorised user total peace of mind. Our MFDs achieve the highest levels of security compliance possible for commercially available MFDs.

Usability

Sharp MFDs help create a more comfortable, less stressful working environment. User-friendly features allow easy operation for all staff:

- Intuitive touch screen controls ensure ready access to high-performance document functions.
- The Home screen can be customised for individual users by programming their most frequently used functions and settings.
- The Enlarge Display mode brings added readability – a range of screen colours and languages can also be chosen.
- The tiltable* control panel provides greater visibility and improved ease of use - even from a wheelchair. (*Tiltable angle depends on MFD model.)

SHARP

t: 0208 734 2027
e: david.harrison@sharp.eu
e: mike.ferrall@sharp.eu
w: www.sharp.co.uk

Sharp understands that every organisation is unique. This is why we tailor our document solutions from the ground up with you in mind making sure all your individual requirements are met.

Helping you work collaboratively

Our MFDs can allow you to work collaboratively wherever you are meaning that productivity is always at a maximum, no matter where your staff are based. Our solutions also help limit the need for posting documents and email, meaning even more cost savings and maximising security.

A recent solution installed for one of our customers includes an Equitrac solution; this means that work can be transferred between them and a neighbouring partner, as business levels dictate. Staff can access a number of multi-functional devices located across the business area, allowing users to submit print work and collect their documents from various locations whilst maintaining a secure environment.

Bring all your printing requirements in house

Enhancing your print room with state of the art colour and monochrome production facilities means that whether you are producing individually tailored letters or promotional brochures in a variety of languages, the comprehensive print and finishing capabilities of our range of MFDs will enable you to produce a wide range of promotional literature and personalised print in-house, with greater flexibility and at a fraction of the cost of using external suppliers, meaning you can save paper by only printing exactly what you need.

With low through-life costs and experienced solutions and support teams, we provide a smart new way to manage your print requirements that eliminates unnecessary expense, maximises flexibility and ensures a bespoke print production installation that perfectly matches your needs.

Every product in the Sharp digital printer range delivers exceptional productivity, versatility and stunning image quality. And because they have been designed with busy organisations' print requirements in mind, all these professional features are easy to access and simple to use.

Attentive, onsite support

Our commitment to outstanding service and customer support sets us apart. You will receive unrivalled support from a company that has an enviable reputation within the industry for outstanding service and customer support delivery.

We are proud of our service standards and work hard to deliver outstanding service to all of our customers. With field based engineers and technicians based all over the UK onsite support is always on hand whatever your query.